CHAPTER II

PROTECTION OF FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS OF THE INDIVIDUAL

3. Whereas every person in Solomon Islands is entitled to the fundamental rights and freedoms of the individual, that is to say, the right, whatever his race, place of origin, political opinions, colour, creed or sex, but subject to respect for the rights and freedoms of others and for the public interest, to each and all of the following, namely:—

(a) life, liberty, security of the person and the protection of the law;
(b) freedom of conscience of expression and of assembly and association; and
(c) protection for the privacy of his home and other property and from deprivation of property without compensation, the provisions of this Chapter shall have effect for the purpose of affording protection to those rights and freedoms subject to such limitations of that protection as are contained in those provisions, being limitations designed to ensure that the enjoyment of the said rights and freedoms by any individual does not prejudice the rights and freedoms of others or the public interest.

4.——(1) No person shall be deprived of his life intentionally save in execution of the sentence of a court in respect of a criminal offence under the law in force in Solomon Islands of which he has been convicted.

(2) A person shall not be regarded as having been deprived of his life in contravention of this section if he dies as the result of the use, to such extent and in such circumstances as are permitted by law, of such force as is reasonably justifiable——

(a) for the defence of any person from violence or for the defence of property;
(b) in order to effect a lawful arrest or to prevent the escape of a person lawfully detained;
(c) for the purpose of suppressing a riot, insurrection or mutiny;

or

(d) in order to prevent the commission by that person of a criminal offence, or if he dies as the result of a lawful act of war.

5.—(1) No person shall be deprived of his personal liberty save as may be authorised by law in any of the following cases, that is to say—

(a) in consequence of his unfitness to plead to a criminal charge;

(b) in execution of the sentence or order of a court, whether established for Solomon Islands or some other country, in respect of a criminal offence of which he has been convicted;

(c) in execution of the order of a court of record punishing him for contempt of that court or of a court inferior to it;

(d) in execution of the order of a court made to secure the fulfilment of any obligation imposed on him by law;

(e) for the purpose of bringing him before a court in execution of the order of a court;

(f) upon reasonable suspicion of his having committed, or being about to commit, a criminal offence under the law in force in Solomon Islands;

(g) in the case of a person who has not attained the age of eighteen years, under the order of a court or with the consent of his parent or guardian, for the purpose of his education or welfare;

(h) for the purpose of preventing the spread of an infectious or contagious disease;

(i) in the case of a person who is, or is reasonably suspected to be, of unsound mind, addicted to drugs or alcohol, or a vagrant, for the purpose of his care or treatment or the protection of the community;

(j) for the purpose of preventing the unlawful entry of that person into Solomon Islands, or for the purpose of effecting the expulsion, extradition or other lawful removal of that person from Solomon Islands or for the purpose of restricting that person while he is being conveyed through Solomon Islands in the course of his extradition or removal as a convicted prisoner from one country to another; or

(k) to such extent as may be necessary in the execution of a lawful order of a court requiring that person to remain within a specified area within Solomon Islands or prohibiting him from being within such an area, or to such extent as may be reasonably justifiable for the taking of proceedings against that person relating to the making of any such order, or to such extent as may be reasonably justifiable for restraining that person during any visit that he is permitted to make to any part of Solomon Islands in which, in consequence of any such order, his presence would otherwise be unlawful.

(2) Any person who is arrested or detained shall be informed as soon as reasonably practicable, and in a language that he understands, of the reasons for his arrest or detention.

(3) Any person who is arrested or detained—

(a) for the purpose of bringing him before a court in execution of the order of a court; or

(b) upon reasonable suspicion of his having committed, or being about to commit, a criminal offence under the law in force in Solomon Islands, and who is not released, shall be brought without undue delay before a court; and if any person arrested or detained upon reasonable suspicion of his having committed or being about to commit a criminal offence is not tried within a reasonable time, then, without prejudice to any further proceedings that may be brought against him, he shall be released either unconditionally or upon reasonable conditions, including in particular such conditions as are reasonably necessary to ensure that he appears at a later date for trial or for proceedings preliminary to trial.

6.—(1) No person shall be held in slavery or servitude.

(2) No person shall be required to perform forced labour.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the expression "forced labour" does not include—

(a) any labour required in consequence of the sentence or order of a court;

(d) any labour required during any period of public emergency or in the event of any other emergency or calamity that threatens the life and well-being of the community, to the extent that the requiring of such labour is reasonably justifiable in the circumstances of any situation arising or existing during that period or as a result of that other emergency or calamity, for the purpose of dealing with that situation; or

(e) any labour reasonably required as part of reasonable and normal communal or other civic obligations.

7. No person shall be subjected to torture or to inhuman or degrading punishment or other treatment.

8.—(1) No property of any description shall be compulsorily taken possession of, and no interest in or right over property of any description shall be compulsorily acquired, except where the following conditions are satisfied, that is to say—

(a) the taking of possession or acquisition is necessary or expedient in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality, public health, town or country planning or the development or utilisation of any property in such a manner as to promote the public benefit; and

(b) there is reasonable justification for the causing of any hardship that may result to any person having an interest in or right over the property; and

(c) provision is made by a law applicable to that taking of possession or acquisition—

(i) for the payment of reasonable compensation (the valuable consideration of which may take the form of cash or some other form and may be payable by way of lump sum or by instalments) within a reasonable period of time having due regard to all the relevant circumstances; and

(ii) securing to any person having an interest in or right over the property a right of access to the High Court, whether direct or on appeal from any other authority, for the determination of his interest or right, the legality of the taking of possession or acquisition of the property, interest or right, and the reasonableness of the compensation and the period of time within which it shall be paid.

(2) Nothing contained in or done under the authority of any law shall be held to be inconsistent with or in contravention of this section—

(i) in satisfaction of any tax, rate or duty;

(ii) by way of penalty for breach of the law or forfeiture in consequence of a breach of the law;

(iii) as an incident of a lease, tenancy, mortgage, charge, bill of sale, pledge or contract;

(v) in circumstances where it is reasonably necessary so to do because the property is in a dangerous state or injurious to the health of human beings, animals or plants;

(vi) in consequence of any law with respect to the limitation of actions or acquisitive prescription; or

(vii) for so long only as may be necessary for the purposes of any examination, investigation, trial or enquiry or, in the case of land, the carrying out thereof—

(A) of work of soil conservation or of conservation of other natural resources; or

(B) of work relating to agricultural development or improvement which the owner or occupier of the land has been required, and has without reasonable excuse refused or failed, to carry out, except so far as that provision or, as the case may be, the thing done under the authority thereof is shown not to be reasonably justifiable in a democratic society; or

(b) to the extent that the law in question makes provision for the taking of possession or acquisition of—

(i) enemy property;

(ii) property of a deceased person, a person of unsound mind, a person who has not attained the age of twenty-one years or a person who is absent from Solomon Islands, for the purpose of its administration for the benefit of the persons entitled to the beneficial interest therein;

Provided that a person shall not be under any obligation to answer any question put to him by any member of the Cabinet at such meeting.

37. The Governor-General, acting in accordance with the advice of the Prime Minister, may, by directions in writing, assign to the Prime Minister or any other Minister responsibility for the conduct (subject to the provisions of this Constitution and any other law) of any business of the Government, including responsibility for the administration of any department of the Government.

38.—(1) Whenever the Prime Minister is unable, by reason of illness or absence from Solomon Islands, to perform the functions conferred on him by this Constitution, those functions shall be performed by the Deputy Prime Minister or, if he too is unable to do so, the Governor-General may, by directions in writing, authorise some other Minister to perform those functions (other than the functions conferred by this section) and that Minister may perform those functions until his authority is revoked by the Governor-General.

(2) The powers of the Governor-General under this section shall be exercised by him in accordance with the advice of the Prime Minister:

Provided that if the Governor-General, acting in his own deliberate judgment, considers that it is impracticable to obtain the advice of the Prime Minister owing to the Prime Minister's illness or absence, the Governor-General may exercise those powers without that advice and in his own deliberate judgment.

(3) The Police Force shall be under the command of the Commissioner of Police.

(4) The Prime Minister, or such other Minister as may be authorised in that behalf by the Prime Minister, may give to the Commissioner of Police such general directions of policy with regard to the maintenance of public safety and public order as he may consider necessary and the Commissioner shall comply with such directions or cause them to be complied with.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed as precluding the assignment to a Minister of responsibility under section 37 of this Constitution for the organisation, maintenance and adminis-

50. A member of Parliament shall vacate his seat—
(a) on a dissolution of Parliament;
(b) if he resigns his seat by writing under his hand addressed to the Speaker;
(c) if he is elected as Speaker;
(d) if he is appointed as Governor-General;

(f) if any circumstance arises that, if he were not a member of Parliament, would cause him to be disqualified from election thereto by virtue of paragraph (a), (b), (d), (f) or (g) of subsection (1) of the preceding section; or
(g) in the circumstances mentioned in the next following section.

51.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, if a member of Parliament is sentenced by a court in any part of the world to death or to imprisonment (by whatever name called) for a term of, or exceeding, six months, including a suspended sentence, he shall forthwith cease to perform his functions as a member of Parliament, and his seat in Parliament shall become vacant at the expiration of a period of thirty days thereafter:

Provided that the Speaker (or, if the office of Speaker is vacant or he is for any reason unable to perform the functions of his office, the Deputy Speaker) may, at the request of the member, from time to time extend that period for thirty days to enable the member to pursue any appeal in respect of his conviction or sentence so however that extensions of time exceeding in the aggregate one hundred and fifty days shall not be given without the approval of Parliament signified by resolution.

(2) If at any time before the member vacates his seat he is granted a free pardon or his conviction is set aside or his sentence is reduced to a term of imprisonment of less than six months or a punishment other than imprisonment is substituted, his seat in Parliament shall not become vacant under the provisions of this section, and he may again perform his functions as a member of Parliament.

(3) For the purposes of this section—
(a) two or more terms of imprisonment that are required to be served consecutively shall be regarded as a single term of imprisonment for the aggregate period of those terms; and
(b) no account shall be taken of a sentence of imprisonment imposed as an alternative to or in default of the payment of a fine.

52.—(1) The High Court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine any question whether—

(3) Subject to the provisions of the next following subsection, an appointed member of the Commission shall vacate his office—
(a) at the expiration of the period specified in the instrument by which he was appointed; or
(b) if any circumstances arise that, if he were not a member of the Commission, would cause him to be disqualified from appointment as such.

(4) The provisions of section 126 of this Constitution shall apply to an appointed member of the Constituency Boundaries Commission as they apply to a member of the Public Service Commission except that subsection (7) shall apply as if for the words “in accordance with the advice of the Prime Minister” there were substituted the words “in accordance with the advice of the Judicial and Legal Service Commission”.

54.—(1) For the purpose of the election of members of Parliament, Solomon Islands shall be divided into such number of constituencies, being not less than thirty and not more than fifty, and each constituency shall have such boundaries, as may be prescribed by Parliament by resolution on a recommendation of the Constituency Boundaries Commission in accordance with subsection (4) of this section.

(2) The Constituency Boundaries Commission shall make recommendations to Parliament with respect to the number and boundaries of constituencies as soon as practicable after the commencement of this Constitution; and thereafter the Commission may review the number and boundaries of the constituencies whenever they consider this to be desirable and shall do so not later than ten years after they last reviewed them, and may make recommendations to Parliament for alterations in the number and boundaries of the constituencies.

(3) In making recommendations under the preceding subsection, the Constituency Boundaries Commission shall have regard to the principle that the number of inhabitants of each constituency shall be as nearly equal as is reasonably practicable:

Provided that the Commission may depart from the foregoing principle to such extent as they consider expedient in order to take account of the distribution of the population, the means of communication, and ethnic affiliations.

(4) Parliament may, by resolution, approve or reject the recommendations of the Constituency Boundaries Commission but may not vary them; and, if so approved, the recommendations shall have effect as from the next dissolution of Parliament.

55.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, a person shall be entitled to be registered as an elector if, and shall not be so entitled unless—

(3) No person shall be entitled to be registered as an elector who—

(a) is under sentence of death imposed on him by a court in any part of the world, or is under a sentence of imprisonment (by whatever name called) for a term of, or exceeding, six months, other than a sentence in lieu of a fine, but including a suspended sentence, imposed on him by such a court or substituted by competent authority for some other sentence imposed on him by such a court;

(b) is certified to be insane or otherwise adjudged to be of unsound mind under any law for the time being in force in Solomon Islands; or

(c) is disqualified from registration as an elector or from voting at elections under any law for the time being in force in Solomon Islands relating to offences connected with elections.

(4) For the purposes of paragraph (a) of the preceding subsection two or more terms of imprisonment that are required to be served consecutively shall be regarded as a single term of imprisonment for the aggregate period of those terms.

56.—(1) Any person who is registered as an elector in any constituency shall be entitled to vote in such manner as may be prescribed at any election for that constituency unless—

(a) on the date appointed for polling he is under such sentence of death or serving such sentence of imprisonment as is referred to in paragraph (a) of section 55(3) of this Constitution or (except in so far as may be otherwise prescribed) he is for any other reason unable to attend in person at the place and time appointed for polling; or

(b) he is prohibited from so voting by any law in force in Solomon Islands because he holds or is acting in any office the functions of which involve any responsibility for, or in connection with, the conduct of that election or because he has been convicted of any offence connected with elections.

(2) No person shall vote at any election for any constituency who is not registered as an elector in that constituency.
57.—(1) There shall be an Electoral Commission consisting of—

(a) the Speaker, who shall be Chairman of the Commission; and of the Commission if he is a member of, or a candidate for election to, Parliament or the Honiara city council or any provincial assembly.

(3) Subject to the provisions of the next following subsection, an appointed member of the Commission shall vacate his office—

(a) at the expiration of the period specified in the instrument by which he was appointed; or

(b) if any circumstances arise that, if he were not a member of the Commission, would cause him to be disqualified from appointment as such.

(4) The provisions of section 126 of this Constitution shall apply to an appointed member of the Electoral Commission as they apply to a member of the Public Service Commission except that subsection (7) shall apply as if for the words “in accordance with the advice of the Prime Minister” there were substituted the words “in accordance with the advice of the Judicial and Legal Service Commission”.

58.—(1) The Electoral Commission shall have general responsibility for, and shall supervise, the registration of electors for the election of members of Parliament and the conduct of elections of such members and the Commission shall have such powers and other functions relating to such registration and such elections as may be prescribed.

(2) Every proposed Bill and every proposed regulation or other instrument having the force of law relating to the regis-the election of such members shall be referred to the Electoral Commission at such time as shall give them sufficient oppor-

Parliament or, as the case may be, the regulation or other instru-

(3) The Electoral Commission may make such reports to the Governor-General concerning the matters under their super-they may think fit, and if the Commission so request in any such report other than a report on a draft Bill or instrument that report shall be laid before Parliament.

Parliament it shall be presented to the Governor-General who shall assent to it forthwith on behalf of the Head of State, and when such assent is given the Bill shall become law.

(3) No law shall come into operation until it has been pub-funds of Solomon Islands, or for altering any such charge otherwise than by reducing it, or for compounding or remitting any debt due to Solomon Islands;

(b) proceed upon any motion (including any amendment to a motion) which would, in the opinion of the person presidsuch a Bill as is referred to in paragraph (a) to give effect to the motion; or

(c) receive any petition which, in the opinion of the person presiding, requests that provision be made for any of the purposes aforesaid.
61.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, Parliament may alter this Constitution.

(c) sections 46 to 58 (inclusive), and 108; and

(3) A Bill for an Act of Parliament to alter any provision of this Constitution (but which does not alter any of the provisions of this Constitution as specified in subsection (2) of this section) shall not be passed by Parliament unless it is supported at the final voting on two separate readings in Parliament by the votes of not less than two-thirds of all the members of Parliament.

(4) Without prejudice to the provisions of subsections (2) and (3) of this section, a Bill for an Act of Parliament under this section shall not be passed by Parliament unless—

(c) in the case of the Speaker—
(i) if any circumstances arise that would cause him to be disqualified from election as a member of Parliament; or
(ii) when Parliament first sits after a general election; or
(d) in the case of the Deputy Speaker—
(i) if he ceases to be a member of Parliament or if, under the provisions of section 51 of this Constitution, he is required to cease to perform his functions as a member of Parliament;
(ii) if he becomes a Minister;
(iii) if he is elected as Speaker; or
(iv) if he becomes a recognised leader in Parliament of any political party.

(7) The Speaker shall call on the Member in whose name the clause stands and upon such Member moving "That clause... be replaced by the following clause" or "That the following clause be inserted immediately after clause...", the Speaker shall propose the question thereon and debate may then take place on that question and any amendments to the clause may be proposed. 27. Permanent appointments will be subject to a probationary period of one year. In special circumstances the Commission may, however, on the recommendation of the supervising officer, extend this period.

Confirmation extension or termination of appointments

28. The confirmation, extension or termination of a probationary appointment will be decided by the Commission based on the officer's general conduct and reports submitted on his performance of duties.

Reports during probation

29. Reports on officers on probation will be made twice in one year. The final report must be submitted to the Commission not later than two months before the end of the probation period.

Renewal, extension or termination of appointment

30. The renewal, extension or continuation of a non-permanent appointment beyond the term of the appointment, or six months where no term has been specified, shall be subject to the approval of the Commission.

PART III

Promotions

31. The selection of public officers for substantive promotion shall be competitive, the assessment of candidates being based on qualifications and merit, taking into account staff reports (for officers L3 and above), and the recommendations of senior officers and any selection panel appointed by the Commission.

32. If two or more candidates are judged equal on grounds of qualifications and merit, preference will be given to the most senior.

33. The field of candidates for consideration for substantive promotion shall be determined by the Secretary for the Public Service and may be restricted to officers of certain grade levels, and with more than a specified seniority.

34. Where there is more than one qualified candidate to be considered for substantive promotion to L3 and above, a selection panel will normally be appointed to make recommendations to the Commission, in accordance with the procedure in regulations 23 to 25. Staff reports and all other relevant information concerning the candidates will be made available to the panel by the Secretary for the Public Service.

35. All substantive promotions to Level 5 and above shall be subject to six months trial, extendable, exceptionally up to two years at the discretion of the Commission. If after due warning an officer on trial does not reach the required standard he will, subject to the concurrence of the Commission, be demoted.

PART IV

Acting Appointments

36. Acting appointments will only be made—

(a) pending a substantive promotion or appointment to a vacant office; or

(b) where the substantive holder of an office is absent other than on the duties of his office; or

(c) where the post is of a temporary nature, and normally only where the officer is to perform the full duties of the office in which he is to act.
37. Appointments to act in any office shall be made by the Commission, or by any officer exercising delegated powers, who will appoint the most senior officer within the Ministry, Division or office concerned who in their judgment is qualified and suitable to fill the office.

38. No acting appointment shall extend beyond six months without the express approval of the Commission, which shall be withheld unless it is satisfied that the office cannot or should not be filled substantively.

PART V

TRANSFERS

39. Transfer from one cadre, group, or class to another at the same grade level shall be approved by the Commission on the recommendation of the Secretary for the Public Service if the officer is qualified and such a move would be in the public interest. On transfer an officer will not carry over any seniority held in his former cadre, group or class.

40. Where a transfer would involve promotion, the case will be considered under the procedure for substantive promotion in Part III of these Regulations, except that the officer’s seniority will not be taken into account.

41. Nothing in regulations 39 and 40 shall preclude a public officer from applying and being considered for an appointment advertised under Part II of these Regulations, in a different cadre, group or class.

PART VI

SCHOLARSHIPS AND COURSES

42. The Commission shall consider all proposals to send public officers on scholarships or any course of training which would lead to qualifications for promotion.

43. In considering such proposals the Commission will ensure that candidates are selected on merit, having regard to the claims of other eligible officers. Wherever practicable the Commission will appoint a panel in accordance with the procedure set out in regulations 23 to 25, to make recommendations for its consideration.

PART VII

DISCIPLINE

44. Misconduct for the purpose of these Regulations includes acts of misconduct specified in Chapter VIII of the Constitution, or acts contrary to any rules or regulations applying to public officers, or other acts of indiscipline including wilful neglect of duty.

45. Minor acts of misconduct where a warning by the officer’s supervisor is adequate to rectify the misconduct, such as lateness, idleness, or indiscipline, are excluded from the provisions of these Regulations. Where the misconduct persists, a written warning must be given to the officer and a copy sent to the Commission through the Secretary for the Public Service, or to the appropriate officer to whom disciplinary powers have been delegated. Continued misconduct after a written warning shall be dealt with under these Regulations.

46. It is the responsibility of public officers to report at once suspected acts of misconduct by the staff for whom they have supervisory responsibility, other than minor acts as defined in regulation 45, and to deal with disciplinary cases promptly. Failure to do so shall in itself be treated as an act of misconduct.

47. Misconduct or suspected misconduct shall be reported through senior officers to the head of department, or to any officer not below Level 9 nominated by the head of department to deal with disciplinary matters, who shall institute any necessary inquiries and submit a report to the Commission through the Secretary for the Public Service or, if appropriate, to an officer exercising delegated disciplinary powers.

48. The report shall give—
   (a) the facts of the case;
   (b) whether or not it is considered that there has been misconduct;
   (c) the terms of the disciplinary charge, if there has been misconduct; and
   (d) all relevant documents.

49. On receipt of this report the Secretary for the Public Service or officer exercising delegated powers may make such further inquiries as may be thought necessary, and if he considers there has been misconduct he will inform the officer concerned in writing of the charge.

50. The officer shall be given not less than seven days to respond to the charge, and if he so requests he may do so at an interview at which he may be accompanied by a friend or an official representative of his trade union. A report of any such interview shall be placed on record, and a copy sent to the officer accused of misconduct.

51. The Commission may, in serious cases of misconduct or where it is not satisfied that all the facts of the case have been established, appoint a Board of Inquiry to carry out an investigation. The Board shall consist of not more than three officers, all of whom shall be public officers senior to the accused officer, but none shall be from the department in which the officer works, nor be a relative, or have any personal or other connection with him.

52. The Board shall take evidence from all parties concerned, including the officer accused of misconduct who may, if he is interviewed, be accompanied by a friend or an official representative of his trade union. The accused officer shall also be given the opportunity to be present and to put questions on his own behalf where witnesses are interviewed by the Board, and shall be allowed to see or have copies of any documents relied on for the purpose of the enquiry.

53. The Board shall submit a report to the Commission, through the Secretary for the Public Service, which shall set out the facts established, and recommend any changes in the terms or scope of the charges against the accused officer. If the Commission accepts any change in the charges, the officer concerned shall be informed in writing by the Secretary for the Public Service.

54. Where it appears that a public officer has in the course of his duties committed a criminal offence, the police and the Secretary for the Public Service, shall be informed immediately.

55. If a public officer has been or is to be charged with any criminal offence, no decision on any question of misconduct shall be taken pending the conclusions of the legal proceedings and any consequent appeal. Nothing in this regulation shall however preclude any investigation within the public service, nor the right to suspend an officer as provided for in regulation 66.

56. Following the conclusion of criminal proceedings, disciplinary action should be completed.

57. A public officer acquitted of a criminal charge shall not be dismissed or otherwise punished for misconduct in respect of the offence alleged in that charge, but this shall not prevent his being dismissed or otherwise punished if the facts show that the officer has otherwise committed an act of misconduct under the provisions of these Regulations.

58. Where an officer has been convicted and sentenced to imprisonment, his pay will stop from the date on which he has been sentenced. This is a management action and is unrelated to disciplinary proceedings under these Regulations.

59. In considering the punishment of an officer convicted of a criminal offence the Commission, or officer exercising delegated powers, shall take into account the extent to which the offence for which he has been convicted affects the performance of his duties and responsibilities as a public officer, and also the penalties imposed on him for his criminal offence.

60. Where the Commission or officer exercising delegated powers is satisfied that any act of misconduct warrants punishment, the following may be imposed, according to the circumstances:

(a) reprimand;
(b) severe reprimand;
(c) reduction in salary or wages;
(d) demotion by one or more grade levels;
(e) dismissal.

61. Reductions in salary or wages under regulation 60(c) shall normally be by an amount equal to one or more increments for a specified period, the officer's incremental progression remaining unchanged.

62. An officer should only be dismissed when the Commission, or officer exercising delegated powers, is fully satisfied that the nature of his misconduct together with any other evidence regarding his previous behaviour makes him unfit to continue in office. If in any particular case the Commission or officer exercising delegated powers is in doubt, a probationary period of up to two years may be imposed, with or without a lesser punishment, which shall expire without further action if the officer is of good behaviour.

63. If during any probationary period imposed under regulation 62 an officer’s conduct is unsatisfactory, the facts shall be reported at once to the Commission or officer exercising delegated powers, who shall decide whether the officer should in consequence be dismissed.

64. Nothing in these Regulations shall preclude the Commissioner from requiring that disciplinary inquiries should be instituted if they have grounds for believing that a public officer may be guilty of misconduct.

65. Any officer may be suspended from all or part of his duties pending the conclusion of disciplinary proceedings, if this is in the interests of the public service. The authority to suspend an officer is vested in the Secretary for the Public Service, or any officer to whom he may delegate that authority.

66. An officer will not be suspended when, as an alternative, it would be possible or appropriate to move him to other work. An officer who is suspended will be informed in writing by the Secretary for the Public Service, or officer exercising delegated powers, of the reasons for his suspension. The officer will continue to receive the salary or wages of his substantive grade level, and must remain at his duty station unless he has the written permission of the Secretary for the Public Service or officer exercising delegated powers to leave it.

PART VIII
INEFFICIENCY

67. The provisions in this Part do not apply to officers on probation or trial, which are dealt with in regulations 27 to 29 of Part II and regulation 35 of Part III.

68. Where an officer’s performance of his duties is unsatisfactory, and not up to the standard of his grade, the responsibility rests in the first place with his senior officers to try to establish the cause by discussion with the officer. The officer must in particular be told of his short-comings so that he can have the opportunity to remedy them. In appropriate cases the officer should be given training or a change of work to establish whether his performance can be improved.

69. If within a reasonable time these measures fail to improve the officer’s performance to an acceptable standard, a report shall be made to the Commission, through or by the Secretary for the Public Service, or to any officer exercising delegated powers, recommending appropriate action, which may be one of the following:

(a) demotion to a level suited to his abilities;
(b) dismissal with due notice;
(c) retirement in the public interest.

70. If the Secretary for the Public Service, or officer exercising delegated powers, is satisfied that any of the measures provided in paragraphs (a) to (c) of regulation 69 should be taken he must so inform the officer in writing stating the reasons, and allow the officer 14 days to make representations.

71. After considering any representations the officer may make, the case shall be submitted to the Commission or dealt with under delegated powers as appropriate, and thereafter the officer will be informed of the decision.

72. Nothing in this Part shall preclude the Commission or any officer exercising delegated powers from deferring action recommended under regulation 69 pending a further period of trial not exceeding six months, subject to the officer being informed accordingly.
(c) Premature retirement to facilitate improvements in Government organisation.

(d) Termination of employment because of redundancy.

(e) Premature retirement on medical grounds.

74. Where termination of employment under regulation 73(d) is being considered as a consequence of the reduction or abolition of posts, and there will be one or more posts remaining, officers shall be selected for termination of employment in the following order:

(a) Volunteers.

(b) Officers over the minimum prescribed retirement age; the oldest first.

(c) Other officers in order of seniority; the most junior first.

75. An officer shall only be retired on medical grounds if a medical officer, appointed by the Commission on the recommendation of the Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Health and Medical Services, certifies that the officer is unlikely, because of his health, to give future satisfactory service. The medical officer appointed shall not be a relative or have any personal or other connections with the officer whose retirement is being considered.

76. Any recommendation for the retirement or termination of employment of an officer in accordance with regulation 73 shall be made to or by the Secretary for the Public Service who, if he is satisfied that such action should be taken, shall advise the officer concerned stating the reasons for the proposed action. Thirty days shall be allowed for the officer to make any representations and thereafter the case shall be submitted to the Commission for decision, together with any representations the officer may have made.

PART X

78. The action to be taken on any matter within the competence of the Commission not provided for in these Regulations shall be decided by the Commission after consultation with the Secretary for the Public Service.
